THE WORKER'S SHARE

Injustice of the Existing Industrial System.

TOIL AT MERCY OF CAPITAL.

Co-operation Advanced as a Possible Solution of the Labor Problem—Success of the Plan in Great Britain—A Fair Division of Profits.

While going back over the past centuries it is forced upon us what a wonderful difference there is from the more recent period in our industrial system. For a century industry has been going through a process of evolution which has by no means reached its limit and the continuance of which no man can safely predict. The changes of industry during the medieval and subsequent centuries were few, and consequently a stable condition existed. Manufacture was to a great extent individual. Such a thing as a factory did not exist. The workshops were small, and every competent mechanic conducted business as a master. Those who were employees were chiefly apprentices who expected some day to be masters, and in case of their choosing to work for a master they did so with an independence that no longer exists. The workshop in those days was usually a portion of the dwelling, and the master worked with his apprentices, teaching them a knowledge of a complete trade, not of a portion of one, as is done in our day, and sometimes not a portion.

The guild preceded the trades union, but it was not an organization for labor protection against capital. Its aim was to protect the master workmen of whom it was composed from invasion from without. In fact, when we go back into the past centuries we find ourselves in another world of labor radically different from that which exists at the present day.

The steam engine rendered possible labor saving machinery, and in place of working directly upon the material men began to work indirectly through the machines. The old household industries disappeared. It required large sums of money and larger buildings to carry on industry.

The nineteenth century saw the factory system in full swing and the separation of capital and labor made imminent. Industry is now in the hands of individuals or companies, and the workmen are in workshops and factories. Labor saving machines are being developed rapidly. In the light for shorter hours and better wages labor is in revolt against the tyranny of capital. Woman is now in the field as a competitor against man, and in many other ways the industrial world today has no resemblance to that of the past. To be brief, it is a condition of injustice that does not seem likely to advance the interests of mankind.

The making of articles cheaply requires costly plants, far beyond the grasp of the ordinary workman, and consequently we find that the old individuality has gone. Employers are fewer, employees more numerous.

When this new condition of industrial affairs had come, the industrial class were not prepared for it and were at the mercy of the employer. The old guilds disappeared, having no power to cope with the new conditions. At a later date the idea of mutual aid in industry was revived, and the trades union took its place as successor to the old association.

The trade union was not received with favor by the employers, who seemed to feel danger ahead. They attacked it in the press and had hostile legislation enacted against it in fact, used every means at their command to crush it—but it had come to stay, knowing that there is hardly anything good that does not have enemies. It is now, as we know, one of the powerful forces in modern industry.

Many experiments have been tried by which the worker may improve his condition, but co-operation seems to have the most favorable solution. This is a system by which all the workers become both employer and employee, the profits being equitably divided. While some co-operative concerns have failed through bad business management, the principle is sound. The successful associations pay good dividends and are noted for the honesty and activity of their members, each feeling that he is working for himself while working for the good of the association.

The Rochdale pioneers are the most flourishing of co-operative societies. Founded at Rochdale, England, in 1844 by twenty-eight poor weavers, with a capital of £140, at first as a distributive enterprise, it now adds manufacturing to its other interests.

The limited interest on shares to 5 per cent and divided profits among members in proportion to their purchases, a system which proved highly satisfactory. In 1887 it had 1,850 members, a capital of $60,000 and annual sales of $400,000. Since that time it has increased enormously. There are now about 1,500 of these associations in Great Britain.

In the face of these facts it is likely that co-operation will be a great factor in the solution of the labor problem in the future.—C. W. Nelson in Typographical Journal.

Describing the decrease of child labor in Rhode Island, the Labor Bulletin of Massachusetts says, "The chief factory inspector of Rhode Island in his annual report said that in 1894, when the inspection bureau was created, the percentage of child labor was as high as 8.5, while last year it was about 4.5, little more than one-half."

A Historical Mystery Solved.
The man in the iron mask explained. "I let my wife cut my hair," he sobbed.
Herewith all tendered him respectful sympathy.—New York Sun.

ABOUT THE STATE

Secretary of State F. G. Fleetwood, of Morrisville, reports that up to July 21, 1908 automobiles had been licensed in the state of Vermont. Of these 323 were licensed this season.

Capt. E. A. Shuttleworth of the United States army, accompanied by his wife, has just returned on the steamer Republic, from duty in the Philippines with his regiment, the second United States Infantry, to Northfield.

The condition of Clyde Palmer, the five-year-old Moretown boy, who was very ill from eating sausage which had been kept too long, is making improvement and complete recovery is now assured. It will be remembered that his sister, Hattie, died June 28, of ptomaine poisoning.

The Middlebury Gun club team defeated the team of the Manchester Rod and Gun club at Manchester Thursday afternoon by 28 birds. The total score was 397 to 269. This is the second time Middlebury has defeated the Manchester team, and these are the only matches the Manchester men have lost.

C. T. Hall and C. A. Gardyne of Montgomery County, and the Rev. C. J. Peterson of East Berkshire, left Montreal Saturday on the steamship Southwork for Sweden. Their trip will comprise a visit to Mr. Peterson's old home, Rosera Grinast Soken, thence to France, Italy, England and Scotland, returning home the last of September.

A new two-story brick school building at Lakeside (in Burlington) which the Burlington board of school commissioners has voted to erect, will cost about $35,000. The school is intended to take care of all the pupils of the south end of the city including those now housed at the Lakeside school and the overflow from the Adams street school. An option of a lot on lower Pine street has been secured. Work will be begun this season if the desired appropriation is obtained and will be rapidly pushed to completion.

By the terms of the will of Clara Cordelia Fielder of Essex, just proven in probate court, the Baptist church of Essex Junction is made residuary legatee. The will provides that after the payment of just debts and funeral expenses, the remaining estate, both real and personal, goes to the trustees of the Baptist church in Essex Junction to be used for the general work of the church as its needs shall demand. Frank W. Woods of Essex Junction is appointed executor of the will, and L. C. Nichols and D. J. Milham commissioners and appraisers.

A company of men met at the Waterbury bank recently and organized a Camel's Hump club. The following officers were elected: President, C. C. Graves; secretary, Rev. F. B. Kellogg; treasurer, W. B. Clark. The club proposes to fit up something permanent on top of the hump, and have a tent or house put up with every utensil for camping out purposes. The equipment will be rented to those who are not members of the club at a nominal price a day, and all money received is to be used in improving the road. Much interest is being manifested in the new organization.

WORK AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS.

Large Number of Early Entries in Three Trotting Events.
White River Junction, July 8.—Active preparations for the second annual Vermont state fair, which comes on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 22, 23, 24, and 25, have begun. Additional grandstand room is to be obtained by moving the old stand down to the one constructed last year and joining it thereto. This will make seating capacity for 7,000 persons and everyone will have a slightly better view of the track. This work is now being done under the direction of Secretary Fred L. Davis.

Entries for the trotting events have this early been made in large numbers. In the 2:19 pace, with a stake of $500, 10 horses have already been entered. The stakes of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont are represented and entries from Canada have also been made. The Vermont horses are Oradell, by L. M. Scores, Williams; Reix, ch. stal., and Micado, cs., entered by H. A. Harding of Boston; and Russell Gratten, ch. g., by C. H. Lee of Lyndonville.

The 2:20 pace, stake of $500, shows 23 early entries. The Vermont horses are Mabel Hill, by T. W. Utton, Morrisville; Lucy A. by F. B. Long, Barton; Silverheels, ch. g., and Prince Patch, by John Utton & Son, Morrisville; Iris, by J. B. C. Taylor, West Newbury; Albert R. by, and Lady Isle, by, Newport Stock farm, J. H. Gaines, Newport; Fred R. by G. F. H. Roleau, Essex Junction.

The 2:35 trot, purse $300, shows 11 entries, but one Vermont horse in the number. This is Barron Wedgewood, by and is entered by H. A. Harding of Barton. There will be more entries in all three of the above classes.

A Cool Concoction For Summer Days.

A most refreshing drink for warm days is a cold, freshly-made tea, sweetened with orange syrup and acidulated with lemon juice. It is irresistibly delicious when topped off with a spoonful of ice cream and served immediately with Nabisco Sugar Wafers. These dainty Sugar Wafers are the unflinching resource of every hostess and those responsible for household management. As they set the fashion in style and make-up, so do Nabisco Sugar Wafers set the standard of excellence by which other wafers can be judged.

The Jury Is Complete and Testimony Being Taken.

Gra indictment, Col. July 8.—With the jury completed, nine of whom are farmers and the opening statements of the defense and prosecution, the taking of testimony began yesterday in the trial here of Steve Adams, accused of assassinating Arthur Collins, the mine manager, during the strike troubles in Telluride several years ago. District Judge C. Hackford, sitting in the case, granted the application of the defense to have the state summon Adams' witnesses by allowing $100 for the purpose. Attorney Hilton objected to the admission of Adams' alleged confession on which the state's case is based. The court permitted reference to the confession in the prosecutor's opening address, but withheld his decision as to admission of the confession itself, to which the objection was made by the defense that it was involuntary.

RESORTS BURNED FOLLOWING PRAYER TO DESTROY THEM.

Park Amusement Places in Ruins 12 Hours After Strange Exhortation of Chicago Clergyman.

Chicago, July 8.—Twelve hours after the Rev. George Edward Lewis in a public prayer asked that the amusement resorts of Irving Park where liquor is served might be burned to the ground, Excelsior Park was consumed by fire.

Proprietors of other parts in the neighborhood admit that they are both puzzled and frightened. They also declare that they have taken precautions to protect their properties.

A. J. Smith, proprietor of the burned park, said his loss would be about $50,000. He thought that crossed electric wires was probably the cause of the fire. An investigation is to be made. The police are looking for two men who were seen near the park early in the day.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION IN SESSION AT BUFFALO.

Three Associations Are Working Together For The Reform.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 8.—The American Automobile association, the governing body, composed of 24 state associations, nearly 200 clubs, and representing a membership of about 20,000 motorists, began its first open convention here yesterday.

The National Grange, with its membership of 1,000,000, is represented on an equal basis. Representatives of the American Road Makers' association are also taking part in the conference. The object of the convention is to educate and enthuse the public by a series of such conventions on the question of good roads.

Love's Young Dream.

Another case of the bad boy rudely interrupting love's young dream. A Maltese girl and her Romeo sat in close proximity on the couch in the drawing room last to the evening. They were brought back from Eden by her little brother, who, like many of his kind, makes it a practice to butt in at the wrong time. He walked into the room, planted himself in front of the young man and asked:

"Was you ever tied to a fish line?"
"I certainly was not," was the reply.
"Well," responded the boy, "I heard pa tell ma last night that you'd make a good sinner."—Mildred Gosip.

As to Quotations.

How many persons can unhesitatingly name the source of the familiar quotations? Many a man goes through life without reading a single play of Shakespeare, but probably no English speaking man goes through life without quoting him. If he answers at a woman's request, "I quote Shakespeare; if he refers to a trick worth two of that," he quotes Shakespeare again.

Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" is not a popular work, but one line of it—"Ask me no questions, and I will tell you no lies"—is known and used by everybody.

Sure Thing.
"I suppose your intention of camping out is tentative?"
"Oh, don't hesitate about that. Yes, there'll be plenty of tents."—Baltimore American.

Yellow Fever.
The first appearance of yellow fever is said to have been among the soldiers of Columbus in 1495.

STORE BURGLARIZED.

$80 Worth Taken From O. T. Green at Sheldon Last Night.

Sheldon, July 8.—The store of O. T. Green was burglarized last night and fruit, canned goods, cigars and valuable pipes to the amount of about $80 were taken. Entrance was gained through a front window.

Boy Killed By The Train.

The injuries of Philip Stone, of Hartford, who was struck by a train Sunday afternoon, June 28, as he was driving home from White River Junction, proved fatal. As the boy drove near he met the express train, and the horse ran up on the bank, throwing the boy out and under the cars. He was taken to the Hanover, N. H., hospital and died at 11 o'clock. The boy that was with him escaped uninjured.

Best The World Affords.

"It gives me unbounded pleasure to recommend Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says J. W. Jenkins of Chapel Hill, N. C. "I am convinced it's the best salve the world affords. It cured a felon on my thumb, and it never fails to heal every sore, burn or wound to which it is applied. Use at the Red Cross Pharmacy, Dickert & Wells' drug store."

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow in healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—25 cents and $1.00.
E. A. Drown, Special Agent.

Absurd All Around.
"Who is the old fellow over there with the comic coat, the stovepipe hat and the baggy kneed trousers?"
"That's the professor who is lecturing on the absurdities of woman's dress."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
